

St. Francis at the Point Anglican Church, Fairhope, AL

Full-Time Assistant Rector Position

St. Francis seeks an Assistant Rector to serve God and shepherd his people alongside the Rector. The role calls for a deep love for God and his people, a mature spiritual walk, and a life marked by prayer, a teachable spirit, and humble service.

The Assistant Rector will have the opportunity to become the rector in 3-4 years when the current rector retires.

Candidates for the position should be ordained to the priesthood in the ACNA and candidates who are graduating from seminary could also be considered.

Excellent written and verbal communication abilities are essential, as well as capable computer/technology skills.

The Assistant will be engaged with every aspect of the life of the church:

- Preach and celebrate on scheduled Sunday worship services (minimum of once a month).
- Lead Bible studies, assist and/or preside at weddings, funerals, special services, and pastoral visitations.
- Attend and participate in Vestry meetings.
- Participate in the life of the Gulf Atlantic Diocese.
- Meet regularly with the Rector.

We envision the Assistant giving particular attention to two ministry focuses:

Discipleship

The Assistant will develop the growth groups, identifying and training the leaders. The assistant will also develop a means of discipleship for teenagers (middle school and high school).

Ministry with Younger Families

St. Francis is blessed with families with small children and/or teenagers. The Assistant will give attention to their discipleship and nurture. This role also involves overseeing the youth ministry.

Compensation & Contact Information

St. Francis offers a full-time salary and benefits. More information can be obtained by contacting the Rev. Gary Blaylock, Rector, frgaryb@gmail.com.
